

I am extremely concerned to hear of proposals to close my local library at Ballyhackamore. I use this library on a regular basis, especially in my role as a registered childminder. It is invaluable to me as a means of introducing young children to books and an interest in reading. I am a member of the book club where I have an opportunity to meet and discuss books with other readers. The library is a vital part of the community to both young and old as it is in the heart of the shopping area and would be badly missed. I hope that money can be given to prevent this closure.

Your sincerely,

Judith Maitland
